

PEOPLE.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, who went abroad for social conquest, is returning in very poor health. She tried the baths and other health cures, but none of them benefited her, and she insisted on returning to the United States, where she is sure she will soon recover her health. Mrs. Fish is American to the backbone.

The British Government recently announced the granting of a civil list pension of $2,500 a year to each of four granddaughters of Charles Dickens, "in recognition of the literary eminence of their grandfather and in consideration of their straitened circumstances."

Mrs. J. Addison Hayes, daughter of Jefferson Davis, was born at Colorado Springs, July 18, at the age of 55. She is the wife of J. Addison Hayes, President of the First National Bank of Colorado and the First National Bank of the University of Colorado. She is the daughter of Jefferson Davis. Miss Hayes and her mother died some years ago. Mr. Hayes leaves two sons and two daughters. He has two sons, by special act of the Legislature, named Jefferson Davis Davis, in honor of his grandfather. Mrs. Hayes was very popular in the South, and was known as the Daughters of the Confederacy. Her husband is a prominent

Gov. John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, is quite seriously ill, and there is just a chance that he may not recover. Gov. Johnson is a very bad patient. He dislikes keeping still and just as soon as he begins to improve, hikes out for work and gets a set-back.

Comrades Dan Wright and Robert Bard returned from St. Cloud Tuesday evening, and are much pleased with their visit to that proposed colony of veterans of the famous Kissimmee Valley of Osceola County, in southern Florida. The proposition is to erect a colony of homes there for veterans of the civil war, mainly because the veterans can no longer withstand the rigors of 21 deaths during the past year. The officers elected were: President, J. G. O'Brien; Vice President, J. J. Harney; Secretary, J. N. Harmon; of Nashua; N. H. Bennett; J. T. Eli; N. Peck; Treasurer, Col. H. W. Allen. The honorary members elected were: J. C. Willard, of Washington, D. C.; E. S. Smith, of Mass.; W. H. Balandier and L. C. Brackett, of New York; D. W. Robinson and Gen. T. S. Peck, of this city, and S. M. Palmer, of Underhill.

The Telescope and Views.

Editor National Tribune: I received the views by yesterday's mail, and must say they are fine, and want to thank you for them, and, as for The National Tribune, I must say how I got along without it before I became a member of it. Wishing you much success. Jas. Peters, Co. D, 21st N. Y. Cav., North Legislature. The bill makes it illegal to sell alcoholic liquors within four miles of any school house. It wiped out a large number of saloons and jug shipping concerns that had domiciled in Tennessee cities from Georgia and Alabama when those States went dry.

S. T. F. Archer, Fla.: The U. S.

Editor National Tribune: I notice in your history you give the first defenders very little space, when it was the consensus of opinion that the timely arrival of the first defenders saved the Capital from capture. It was so regarded and expressed all thru the Northern States and by the loyal men of the South. I, for one of that body men. I think you ought to give us credit for what we did, not thinking at all of the money we were to receive. Thoughts at that time were to preserve the Union.—Maj. R. W. Patton, 23 West 12th street, Station O, New York City, N. Y.

Have You Hay-Fever or Asthma?

We desire to place in the hands of all persons suffering from Hay-Fever or Asthma, a small, handy, and reliable remedy, in the form of capsules containing hundreds of tons of fine testimonials from persons who have been cured and are cured in the past, by the use of "HIMALAYA." Have reliable testimony showing permanent relief to persons who have tried all other remedies and whose condition had failed. We do not wish to rely on our statements to the cure of "HIMALAYA," but to read the testimony of actual persons who have been cured by its use and copies of you can verify to the fullest extent. If it be so desired, we will send you a copy of our book, "The Hay-Fever, Asthma, and Coughs of Himalaya," which can be had through their jobber or wholesaler, or sent direct to you by mail. To persons who are suffering from Hay-Fever or Asthma, we would like to send you a copy of "Himalaya," by mail to any sufferer of Hay-Fever or Asthma. The children have passed, with slow, meaning tread,
Arms laden with flowers, banners waving and
Their hearts beating fast, with joy and pride,
They marched with the veterans, side by side,
From mound to mound, by veterans led,
They carried with flowers our "Nation's"
dead;
They're intent to the tales power old
The hardships borne by our soldiers told
Their voices ring on the clear, balmy air,
The wind kisses the cheek of each young
face so fair;
The sun looks down, its face in a glow,
Throwing showers of sunbeams on young faces so fair.

The Sisterhood.

O blessed Sisterhood of States,
 Enfolded by these ocean mains
 Each loyal son now celebrates
 The Union strong that still remains.
 Our banner over all we wave,
 The ancient token of the day,
 When afloat for thy glory strove,
 And faith would count thee as thy prey.
 —J. H. C.—
 Chorus:
 Then cheer the banner that we love,
 That binds the Union evermore;

May Heaven bless thee from above,
And guard thee well from shore to shore.
Rejoice together, hand in hand,
In loving fellowship rejoice,
Earth hath no richer, fairer, land
Than this where thou hast made thy choice.
Rivers and mountains bind thee fast,
